OVERVIEW

The 10th Global Economic Summit (GES), which is being held alongside the 2025 WTCA Asia Pacific Conference (APC), is a landmark gathering of global business leaders, policymakers, and innovators who will share market trends and perspectives on innovation and sustainability. It will present opportunities and challenges shaping the Asia-Pacific as a global growth engine.

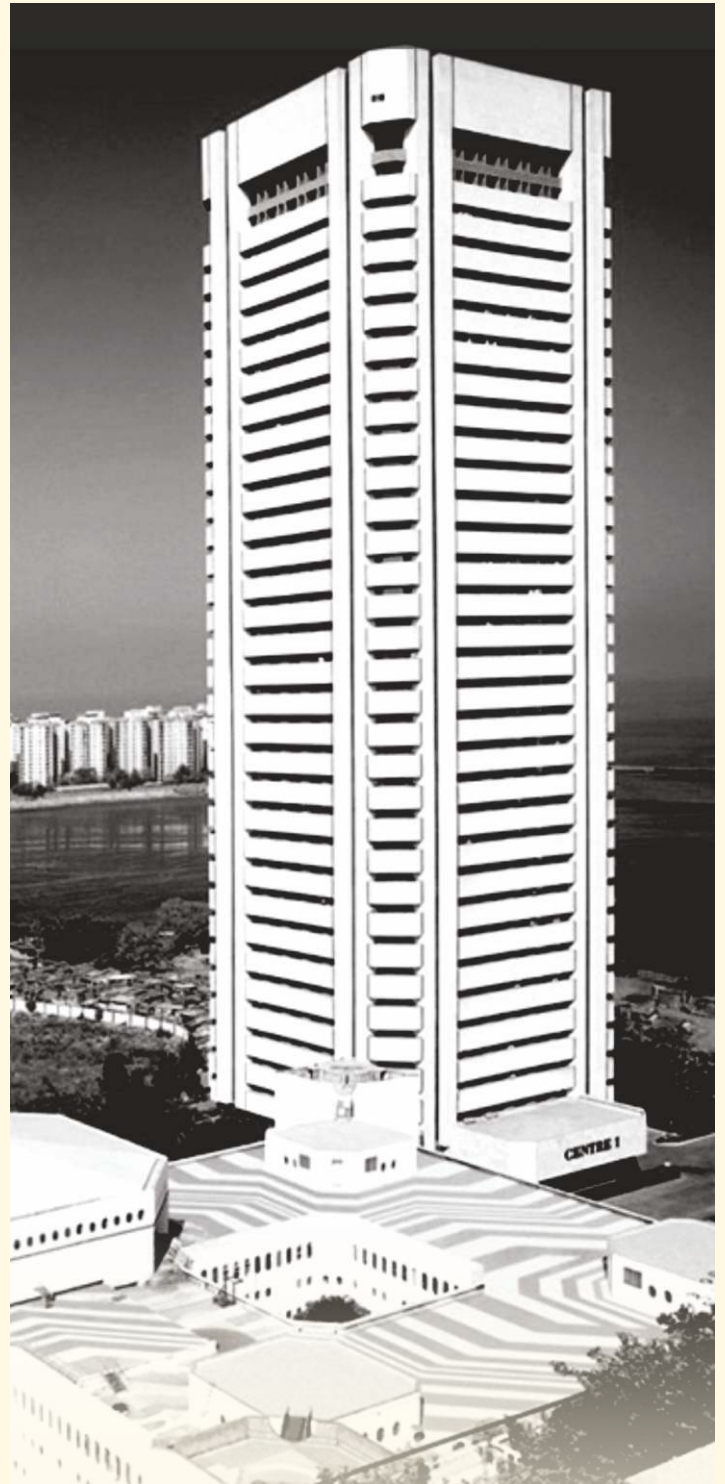

Asia Pacific Conference, the annual meeting of the World Trade Centers Association (WTCA), connects WTCs in the region to network, share best practices, and explore business opportunities with the host city.

Theme: Asia Pacific Driving Global Market

Asia-Pacific accounts for nearly half of global output and is home to over 60% of the world's population-making it a strategic region for economic engagement, policy innovation, and collaborative development.

The Asia-Pacific region is redefining the contours of the global economy:

- Rapid industrialization and urban growth
- Leading the digital revolution and smart technologies
- Central to global value chains and innovation hubs
- Driving sustainability, green manufacturing, and resilience
- A rising consumer market and economic force
